

SocialWork 2000 Training Programme 2008-2009

SocialWork 2000 is looking to establish a new programme of training workshops and would like to hear from trainers interested in contributing.

The workshops can be on any subject related to any area of social work. The first of these workshops 'Report Writing Skills' on 8 July is already oversubscribed with a waiting list.

You must have some experience of delivering training and have a workshop you feel would be of interest to other social workers.

We would be particularly keen to hear from you if you are already working through SocialWork 2000.

We will pay £200 + VAT for a four hour workshop. We will advertise and promote your workshop through our newsletters and our website and provide support such as photocopying any training materials you wish to distribute on the day.

If you would like to be considered please email Maggie Whymark at maggie@socialwork2000.co.uk in the first instance with a précis of your training experience and an outline of the training you would like to offer.
